Immunology at RMIT

As part of the Day of Immunology 2024, RMIT University is opening its doors to the public and our students to tour the research and teaching facilities at our Bundoora West campus.

Hear from expert scientists in the fields of infection (including HIV and COVID-19), cancer, lung disease, brain disorders and development and more. Also hear from current PhD students and academic staff about career opportunities and pathways in immunology. Sponsored by RMIT and the Australia and New Zealand Society for Immunology (ASI).

This is an inclusive and FREE event, with refreshments afterwards!
