

Australian and New Zealand
SOCIETY FOR IMMUNOLOGY INC.

INTERNATIONAL DAY OF IMMUNOLOGY

PUBLIC FORUM

ASTHMA - ALL THERE IS TO KNOW

Join us at this free forum to hear from our expert panel featuring research, clinical and patient perspectives.

EXPERT PANEL

Professor Phil Hansbro is Deputy Director at the Centenary Institute and Director Centre for Inflammation and is an internationally recognised research leader in the study of respiratory diseases, such as asthma, chronic obstructive airway disease (COPD, aka emphysema).

Professor Vanessa McDonald is co-director of the NHMRC CRE in Severe Asthma, deputy director and research leader in the Priority Research Centre for Healthy Lungs and an academic clinician in the Department of Respiratory and Sleep Medicine.

Patient representative from Asthma Australia

WHEN Thursday, 2nd May, 2019

5.15pm for a 5.30pm - canapes and drinks

6.15pm - seminar commences and concludes 7.30pm

VENUE Centenary Institute

Lecture Theatre, Level 6

Building 93, Royal Prince Alfred Hospital

Missenden Road, Camperdown

REGISTRATION Register by 25 April, 2019

Please register @ www.centenary.org.au/asthma-forum for catering purposes

In celebration of International Day of Immunology, the Australasian Society for Immunology joins the Centenary Institute and the Thoracic Society of Australia and New Zealand to present this public forum to share and lead conversation around the impact of Asthma on individuals, families and the community.

Centenary
Institute life saving research

Cancer. Inflammation. Cardiovascular.

The Thoracic Society of Australia & New Zealand
LEADERS IN LUNG HEALTH

Australian and New Zealand
SOCIETY FOR IMMUNOLOGY INC.